Last week, Dr. Patrick Query presented a paper titled "Evelyn Waugh's Silence on Spain" at the International Evelyn Waugh Conference in Somerset, England. The paper, which was very well received, dealt with Waugh's views on the Spanish Civil War. At the conference, Dr. Query was also elected the new secretary of the Evelyn Waugh Society. Waugh was a prominent twentieth-century British novelist, journalist, and reviewer—perhaps known best for his novel Brideshead Revisited (1945) and his trilogy of Second World War novels collectively known as Sword of Honour (1952-61).

Dr. Query delivers his paper to the assembled audience in Stratton-on-the-Fosse, Somerset, England. Also pictured is author Alexander Waugh, grandson of Evelyn Waugh and son of writer Auberon Waugh.
