

Dean's Weekly

Department of English and Philosophy

14 December 2011

Past Events

1. On 3 December 2011, Dr. Rebecca Wisor and fourteen cadets traveled to Manhattan with the Elsie Pinnell Art Appreciation Forum. Their visit to the Museum of Modern Art was followed by an architectural walking tour of midtown Manhattan, including Rockefeller Center, and completed by an evening visit to the "Top of the Rock."

Members of the Elsie Pinnell Art Appreciation Forum take in the architecture, and holiday spirit, of Rockefeller Center.

Cadets examine an example of Cubist painting at the Museum of Modern Art.

Cadets pose before a Jackson Pollack painting at the Museum of Modern Art.

2. EN101 (Composition) faculty brought the fall semester to a close with a variety of instructor-designed projects meant to supplement the intensive reading and writing components of the course. Many faculty, for example, had their students conduct oral presentations on their research argument essays. Instructor MAJ Rich Hartney made his presentation assignment one to remember by coordinating the use of USMA's television production studio and the expert advice and technical support of West Point's Visual Information Division.

Students in MAJ Rich Hartney's EN101 (Composition) class give a presentation in the West Point Visual Information Division's TV studio.