

Vipp Jaswal

Fox News Channel

International Development and Business

Vipp Jaswal joined the Fox News Channel in 2005 and is in charge of international development and business. Prior to this, Vipp was an International Banker with HSBC for over a decade where as part of senior management, he was in leadership roles in various parts of the world. He has worked and lived in Hong Kong, Indonesia, Japan, Thailand, Philippines, Dubai, Great Britain and the USA.

Vipp has a distinct and unique appreciation of the challenges of global business and cultural diversity. He has been able to successfully implement and execute strategic missions on an international scale. Vipp also advises organizations with cultural adaptability and the successful transition of international projects and human resources assignments.

Vipp's education has been in 10 schools in 5 countries namely, Japan, Australia, Korea, Singapore and Great Britain. Vipp is also an active contributor and participant of various local and national charities and cultural causes.