Because of the piecemeal commitment of Hood’s army, it is difficult to determine precisely the number of men engaged in the battle. It appears that Hood and Schofield committed approximately the same number to the fighting. Each of them had a strength roughly 30,000.

---

Battle of Franklin, Situation at 1530 Hours and Confederate Attack at 1600, 30 November 1864

Battle of Spring Hill, Situation at Sunset 29 November 1864

FRANKLIN AND NASHVILLE CAMPAIGN

COLUMBIA, TENN. AND VICINITY, 1862

COLUMBIA, TENN. AND VICINITY, 1864